

SECRETARY SHAW IN A WARM CHURCH WAR

Involved in a Contest in Des Moines.

WOULD BE A LAY DELEGATE
Elected to Four Conferences, But Now
There Are Fifteen Candidates to Beat.

Secretary Shaw just dots on politics. The former governor of Iowa and now member of President Roosevelt's cabinet, thinks life in Washington slow compared with the stirring campaign in the Hawkeye State when he won the nomination for governor as a dark horse, in a strong field of candidates. In accepting a position as Secretary of the Treasury, politics were barred for Mr. Shaw, and for seventeen months he was compelled to make. But he has not spent the entire period in idleness. In that time he has evolved a plan. He has decided to continue in church politics, and his long delay in reaching this decision promises to give him the political excitement he seeks. He aspires to again represent his old church in Iowa as a lay delegate to the Methodist conference, which will be held this year in Los Angeles.

When Mr. Shaw retired from the office of governor to become Secretary of the Treasury, he was advised by church friends to permit his membership to remain in the First M. E. Church of Des Moines, Iowa, which sent him for four consecutive terms as a lay delegate to the general conference.

Withheld His Letter.

Many others prominent in Washington life had been members of the Foundry M. E. Church in this city, and Secretary Shaw decided that he would withdraw from the Des Moines church and present his letter to the fashionable church in Washington. He obtained the letter, but after thinking the matter over, it is said, he hesitated to present it. Then, too, there was the longing for politics, and the church seemed to offer the only opening for keeping his hand in.

About a month ago Secretary Shaw returned his letter of withdrawal and asked to be continued as a member of the Des Moines church. In the meantime, however, many candidates had sprung up for a position as one of the six lay delegates to represent the Des Moines district.

Had Secretary Shaw refrained from taking out a letter to another congregation he would have been selected for a fifth term without question, and even now he has hundreds of friends who would like to see him appointed, but, unfortunately for harmony, they have lined up for some one of the fifteen candidates who entered the field in the belief that Secretary Shaw was no longer a representative of the district. The Des Moines district began its conference yesterday at Indianapolis, Iowa, and before adjournment the question is to be settled.

Warm Contest Certain.

Before his election as governor of Iowa Mr. Shaw had been a delegate to three general conferences, and since that time he has never failed of election. On that account he is strong now, and it is certain his name will be presented with the other fifteen aspirants and that the fight is going to be warm from the start.

The situation in the district, by reason of Secretary Shaw's change of mind, is said to be decidedly embarrassing. Members hesitate to overturn the calculations of all the other candidates for delegates, who have for years been workers in the district, and they do not like to have it said of the district conference, that it deliberately turned down the Secretary of the Treasury when he applied to again represent the district in the general conference.

The fitness and great ability of Secretary Shaw to represent the district is not questioned, but a point has been raised concerning his eligibility, in view of his absence for most of the conference year, that may have to be met by an appeal to the bishop.

GONE TO INVESTIGATE IMMIGRANTS IN PRISON

Commissioner General Sargent on a Trip to New York.

Commissioner General of Immigration Sargent went to New York this morning in connection with the investigation the Department of Commerce is making into the number of recently arrived immigrants who are in the prisons and charitable institutions of the country. "The investigation has been going on rapidly since it was discovered that of the immigrants who arrived in New York last year, 600 are already in various institutions. A number of preliminary reports have been received from other cities, and it is expected that when the department is ready to make these public, the figures will make a sensation.

GEN. MILES REPORTS ON SOLDIERS' HOME

Of the Beneficiaries 955 Had War Experience
Other Than That Acquired in Indian Wars.

One hundred and fifty-five of the beneficiaries of the Soldiers' Home in the year ended June 30, were veterans of the Mexican war; 391 served in the civil war, and 409 served in the army since the beginning of the war with Spain, making a total of 955 beneficiaries who had war experience other than that acquired in the Indian wars.

The foregoing facts are set forth by Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles, retired, in a report he has made to the Secretary of War on the condition of the District Soldiers' Home, of whose governing board he was president until the time of his retirement.

One-half of the men cared for at the home in the year just ended were of American birth, one-fourth Irish, one-sixth German, and the remainder from various other countries. The ages of the inmates of the home varied from 21 to 85. One hundred and six of the men were over seventy years old.

On July 30, the total number of soldiers on the rolls of the home was 1,414. Thirty-two of these were only temporary inmates of the home. This is an increase of fifteen beneficiaries over the number for last year. The number of persons on the rolls who are actually present at the home is 871. The number on outdoor relief is 348. Thirty-one are in the hospital for the insane, sixty-seven are on furlough, ninety-five are in the general hospital at Fort Bayard.

MANY NATIVES COMING FOR FILIPINO EXHIBIT

Every Mode of Life to Be Shown at St. Louis.

Plans for the exhibit of the Philippine Islands at the St. Louis Fair are rapidly progressing. Forty acres of ground has been assigned to the exhibit. The board of commissioners has decided upon a number of characteristic houses and buildings in which to make the exhibits of the industries and products of the archipelago. Concessions have been granted to prominent Filipinos to construct villages, which will be peopled by citizens of the various islands, and will be an exact reproduction of the towns and villages of the Philippines.

Among them will be the Igorrote village, in which will dwell families of this tribe just as they exist in the Philippines. They will show the copper and brass industries, the head-hunting Igorrotes, the tree dwellers, and other interesting characteristics of the natives of that district. The Moro village will show the pearl fishing natives and how they carry on their work.

These settlements will be made up, according to contract, of natives with their houses or huts, all busily engaged in their various trades and surrounded by all their native belongings and utensils. It is expected that 1,500 natives will be brought to this country to take part in the exhibition.

Six hundred Filipino soldiers will be encamped in the Philippine reservation to show how the natives have been trained for the United States army. Among the characteristic features of the exhibition will be one hundred game cocks, brought here especially to give exhibitions of the native Philippine sport-cock fighting.

CANNOT SELL CREAM WITHOUT A PERMIT

This Is the Opinion of the Corporation Counsel.

There is no distinction between milk and cream, in the eye of the law, and a permit is necessary before either article may be shipped into the District of Columbia. This, in brief, is the opinion of Corporation Counsel A. B. Duval, submitted to the Commissioners this morning. The opinion is in direct conflict with a ruling of Mr. Duval's predecessor, who held that no permit was necessary for the shipment of cream.

The action was taken upon the request of Health Officer Woodward, in the case of Edgar McCray, administrator of the estate of C. C. Mercer, a dairyman of Hamilton, Va., who has been shipping cream into the District, and supposed no permit necessary.

"The only direct reference to cream," the Corporation Counsel announces, "is contained in section 9, where it is provided that no milk shall be sold, exchanged, or delivered, from which the cream, or any part thereof, has been removed, unless the vessel is marked 'skimmed milk.' It is quite manifest, however, that the sale, exchange, or delivery of cream is within the mischief intended to be remedied by this statute, and such a law would fall far short of its purpose if, by construction, its provisions were held not to include cream."

TREASURY NEEDS PAYING.

The Secretary of the Treasury, acting upon the request of the District Commissioners will include in his annual estimates to Congress an item of $7,000 for laying a new cement sidewalk around the Treasury building. The present sidewalk has been the source of much complaint on the part of citizens.

N. M., and two are confined by civil authorities.

The total number of deaths this year among men on the home rolls was 101. Last year the number of deaths among inmates was 102. Eight hundred and five patients were treated in the hospital, and the proportion of deaths to the 100 inmates per annum was 5.17. Sanitary conditions and drainage are reported to be good and no disease has been epidemic or prevalent during the year.

General Miles commends Brig. Gen. H. S. Hawkins, governor of the home, and other officers for the excellent discipline in the institution, and the good condition of the grounds and buildings.

The total amount of the permanent fund of the home is now $3,606,752.40. The treasurer's account for the year shows the expenditures for current expenses to have been $270,126.69. In permanent improvements $89,065.66 was expended. The total receipts were $375,589.30, leaving a balance in the treasury of $16,411.56. The current expenses for the year were $18,000 more than for the previous year. This is said to be due to the increased cost of fuel, clothing and other supplies.

Women nurses replaced men nurses at the hospital in the past year, and General Miles says the change has proved satisfactory.

With General Miles' report were submitted the annual report of General Hawkins, the governor, and Inspector General G. H. Burton, who inspected the home this year.

CRIES OF "MAD DOG" ATTRACTS BIG CROWD

Small Bull Terrier Creates Lots of Excitement.

"Mad dog" was the startling cry that echoed about the New Willard Hotel this morning. A small bull terrier, dashing in a confusing whirl up and down across Fourteenth Street discouraged laundling walk and all evidence of that "tired feeling" disappeared from the carriage of the pedestrians. The dog began operations by running around in circles, snapping and yelping and indulging in an apparently well developed case of fit. A crowd of several hundred persons soon collected to watch the evolutions of the canine, which evinced a great desire to jump into every vehicle that came along. In fact, for a few minutes, the dog held up all traffic on the street.

A curious fascination for the dog seemed to pervade the crowd, which, in a careless, what's-there-to-be-afraid-of manner, would slowly approach, only to beat a hot retreat in the direction of the corner drug store when the dog's attention was attracted.

One of the bellhops in the Willard started to investigate the state of affairs. Tower accepted the challenge, and the bellhop had Arthur Duffey, leashed to the mast in the burst of speed which carried him under cover.

Tower was finally dipped into the fountain on Pennsylvania Avenue, but it did him no good. He was then captured by his owner and taken off to the veterinarian for treatment.

MORGAN STILL FAVORS NICARAGUA'S CANAL

Ready to Start New Legislation if It Is Needed.

Senator Morgan is still in the city attending to department business. When asked this morning for an expression of opinion on the action of Colombia in killing the Panama Canal treaty, he said that this did not mean that the United States would not construct a canal. He concluded with the statement that he would have more to say in the matter later, and that should it be necessary, new bills for a canal would be introduced at the coming session of Congress.

Senator Morgan appeared to be of the opinion that the Nicaragua Canal would yet be the route selected.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR JOHN W. HAYES

Court Decides He Legally Represents
Knights of Labor.

John W. Hayes today gained another victory over the faction of the Knights of Labor which has opposed him for several years and endeavored to depose him as one of the executive officers of the order.

A decree was signed today by Justice Pritchard, dissolving a restraining order issued against Hayes and the other officers of the order, enjoining them from removing the books of the organization from this jurisdiction.

The matter came up on the petition of Simon Burns, Henry Hicks, Thomas H. Cannery and John Fernau, against Hayes as master workman and the members of the executive board of the Knights of Labor. After hearing affidavits, by members of the order, in support of the position taken by Hayes and his officers, the court, as stated, signed a decree dissolving the temporary restraining order.

Justice Pritchard refused the complainants an appeal from the order, in accordance with the decision of the Court of Appeals of the District in similar cases.

The decision practically decided that Hayes and his associates are the legal officers of the order of Knights of Labor, and that the general assembly, held at Niagara, under their direction, in November, 1902, was the constitutional organization.

Henry E. Davis appeared as counsel for Hayes and the members of the executive board of the order.
